

MS 74 Pim Manuscripts

About the Collection:

Papers of the Belfast born author and poet, Herbert Moore Pim (1883-1950). A relatively small batch of materials, this collection consists of literary manuscripts concerning published and unpublished works by Pim, including typewritten drafts of the novel, The Pessimist, 1906-10 (published under the pseudonym, A. Newman in 1914), Poems for Children (1940), the plays, Julian the Apostate and The Prometheus Bound of Aeschylus, and a series of studies entitled, The Beauty of Life which were published in various periodicals, c1936. Documents are primarily in typescript with handwritten corrections and annotations. There are also copies of several published titles by Pim, with handwritten annotations by the author. The collection includes a series of six letters to the author from Lord Alfred Douglas (signed 'Bosie'), dated 1922 and 1924-25.

Most items were previously held in Miscellaneous Collection at MS 1/39-42, 45-49. Previous references are noted.

This revised listing was prepared in 2022. It was updated with a new donation in 2023.
